

OLD BLUE LAWS REVIVED SUNDAY IN TRENTON, N. J.

And Even Ministers Who Started Move Aren't
Fully Satisfied

Trenton, N. J., May 26—(UP)—The New Jersey blue and immorality act of 1776 may have been all right in 1796, but the citizens of Trenton apparently want none of it today.

Even the ministers who were responsible, indirectly, for the resurrection of the ancient "blue laws" yesterday were almost ready to admit that they did not realize Public Safety Director George B. Labaree would carry the thing quite so far.

The ministers became incensed last week because Labaree had been enforcing the blue laws, against Sunday movies, banding together in a mass meeting, they criticized Public Safety Director and called for rigid prosecution of the theater owners.

Labaree's reply, in effect, was that if Trenton wanted the antiquated statute enforced, he would enforce it in the fullest sense of the word.

Turning to his law books, he made a thorough study of the New Jersey vice and immorality act of 1796 and then sent his policemen out in full force. The names of all offenders were to be taken, he ordered, and presented to the grand jury for a test of the law.

Most Everyone Hit

The officers, following instructions, rigidly, visited all golf courses and swarmed over the fairways, busy with pencil and pad, for any sort of recreational sport was in violation of the old law. They descended upon railroad stations, grocery stores, tennis courts, gasoline stations and theaters. They paroled the residential sections listening for any music strictly hymnal, for radios and phonographs likewise came under the ban.

Apparently the only thing which the New Jersey blue laws did not prohibit on Sunday was walking. Originally they forbade that—but an amendment later adopted allowed the citizens to stroll.

In New Brunswick, where it was ruled recently that selling bread on Sunday violated the act of 1796, a restaurateur capitalized on the situation to advertise his establishment.

He had the rolls for his Sunday dinners carried outside the city and brought in after dark. In his window the following day appeared the notice:—fresh bootleg rolls—smuggled across the Highland Park border.

STOP PICTURE SHOW.

Dover, O., May 26—(UP)—William E. Byers, 62, police chief here since 1924, resigned Sunday rather than carry out orders of Mayor W. R. Stucky to open the projection room of the Bexley theatre which allegedly was operating in violation of the Sunday anti-motion picture law.

Mayor Stucky accepted Byers' resignation immediately and appointed Frank H. Javens as his successor. A few moments later Javens and two policemen entered the theatre, removed the projection room doors and arrested the projectionist who had locked himself in. The theatre manager and four assistants also were arrested.

Body Of Judge Was Found In Old Quarry

Oakland, Calif., May 26—(AP)—A $1,000 reward has resulted in the discovery of the body of Superior Judge Edward W. Engs, missing for nine days, in an abandoned quarry less than 200 yards from his home.

Judge Engs was suffering from a nervous breakdown and had been delirious only a few hours before he dropped early in the morning and slipped out of his house. He apparently had started on one of his favorite walks along a path that skirts the cliff edge above the quarry.

A misstep, and the sod gave way under him. A shrub stripped of leaves told of a clutching hand, and 150 feet below, his broken body was found, hidden by scrub vegetation in a location visited by hundreds of searchers since the jurist disappeared.

Paul Bonham, 41, and Jack Maher, 49, located the body yesterday. They will divide equally the $500 reward offered by the Engs family and $500 additional offered by the California State Bar for the finding of Judge Engs.

City of Honolulu
Is Swept By Fire

Honolulu, May 26—(AP)—Fire which swept the liner City of Honolulu at her dock here was apparently under control today but firemen continued to play streams of water on the ship, which was scuttled and allowed to settle in 32 feet of water.

Ten fire fighters were taken to a hospital when they had become exhausted or overcome by smoke. There was an unconfirmed report that two members of the liner's crew were missing but this had not been checked.

The fire broke out late yesterday. No passengers were aboard.

Some Oddities In Wire News Today From Various Parts

TO MANY JACKS, ACES.

Chicago, May 26—(AP)—The hollering and yelling in Joseph Gorman's room yesterday was because one gentleman in a gentlemen's poker game held four jacks and an ace, and another gentleman held four aces and a jack. This can be done in pinocchio, but the gentlemen were not playing pinocchio.

Pistichis followed, and it is not surprising. Peaceful pedestrians paused outside. Policemen arrived and nine poker players went to jail.

None explained about the five Jacks and the five aces. It was the general opinion, however, that the playing card company must have made a mistake in that particular deck.

DECEASED PARENTHOOD.

Kankakee, Ill., May 26—(AP)—The parenthood of an incubator chick has been decided by a court of law—in favor of the incubator.

The American Trust & Savings Bank holding a mortgage of Mrs. Alice Gladu's flock of 700 chickens, claimed the 1,500 chickens she possessed, on the ground that the fowls were the natural increase of the hen-carrying hens.

Mrs. Gladu contended that the mortgaged hens had no claim to more than a distant relationship with the chicks because the youngsters were incubator-born.

Judge Gillan upheld her. The bank appealed, and the Appellate Court has now ordered the entire case retried.

NO PLACE TO SLEEP.

Chicago, May 26—(AP)—The driver's seat of a moving automobile, to quote Howard Gessler, is no place for a snooze.

An automobile will invariably take advantage of a snoozing driver. This one wandered into a ditch full of water, and got itself pretty badly banged up.

The crash awakened Mr. Gessler. Water began to ooze in. Gessler crawled out a window, kawned and went away to get some dry clothing. When he returned, policemen were pawing through the wreckage, hunting bodies.

"I just fell asleep," he said, "and that's that."

"I want," said a policeman, "that you would appreciate a nice place to sleep, wouldn't you?"

"Very much, yes, sir," said Gessler. "I know just the place," said the officer, then they went to the station house.

Claims Record For A Parachute Jump

Los Angeles, Cal., May 26—(UP)—A world record for an altitude parachute jump was claimed by Bert White today after a 25,000-foot drop from an airplane over the Mojave desert. A frozen hand was the only ill effect White suffered from the descent.

White was flown by Earl Gordon in a cabin plane to Lancaster where the jump was made. Because of the weight of a parachute, oxygen equipment and heavy clothing, White dropped with two parachutes, the second of which was opened near the earth.

The first chute opened so suddenly after the fall from the plane that White hit his oxygen tube and almost choked. Forced to remove the inhalator's mouthpiece, he lost consciousness from lack of oxygen, but recovered in a few minutes.

Nearing the earth, with the second parachute also opened, White had to maneuver the two bags skillfully to miss a high tension wire. He floated safely to the ground half an hour after his leap.

White had lost one of his gloves in the descent and his hand was frozen. A land party which waited in the desert took him to Los Angeles for medical attention and physicians said he would not suffer any permanent injury.

OLD HOUSE SOLD

VIENNA—(UP)—One of Vienna's oldest houses, the so-called Gibelhaus on the Judengrass was built by Joerg Jordan during the fifteenth century, has changed hands at a price of 7,000 dollars.

The former owner is the wife of a Vienna university professor; the purchaser is a Hungarian.

WASHINGTON REPUBLICANS' STATE CONVENTION GOES ON RECORD
FOR MODIFICATION OF DRY LAWS

Bellevue, Wash., May 26—(UP)—Action of the Republican state convention in arraying itself against the World Court and declaring for modification of the national prohibition law aroused widespread comment over the state today.

At a meeting late Saturday the convention voted 456 to 448 to repeal the prohibition enforcement plank, recommended by the platform committee, with the King county modification plank.

This action was by many seen as an attack on President Hoover's attitude toward prohibition and internationalism, and on Senator Wesley Jones of Washington, author of the "five and ten law."

The Democratic state convention has already declared itself in favor of the principals of state rights in enforcing the prohibition law.

MOONSHINERS IN GUN BATTLE AT FAIR; FOUR DEAD

Eleven Are Injured When
Arkansas Hillmen
Stage Gun Fight

Lepanto, Ark., May 26—(UP)—A short-lived feud, climaxing years of moonshining in the Arkansas hills, was believed today to have caused the pistol battle on a crowded carnival midway here last night which left four men dead and eleven persons wounded.

Conflicting versions were told today of the manner in which Ira "Blackie" Williams, Walter Moffett, and Clyde Keller lost their lives. Predominance of opinion, however, was that a gang feud over liquor dealing started with a fist fight at Marked Tree some days ago and flared up again when the principals met on the crowded carnival street.

William "Doc" Laudermilk, a bystander, also was killed by the flying bullets. Officials said several others were seriously injured and still others received slight wounds.

Hugh Luttrell, one of the principals, was arrested after the shooting and charged with murder. He had escaped injury by fleeing while the gunfire was at its height.

Constable Opens Fire

Witnesses said Williams, Luttrell and Moffett met Keller on the carnival street. In the first exchange of shots Keller was wounded in the side, but emptied his gun at the trio, killing Williams, fatally wounding Moffett, and sending bullets into the panic-stricken crowd.

Constable Rufus Adams shot the gun from Keller's hand. The wounded man reached for the weapon again and resumed his wild firing. His gun was silenced only after Adams had fired four more shots into his body.

Several of the wounded were in serious condition today. Jesse Wright, taxicab driver, was wounded in the leg, and it was feared he would die from loss of blood. Nathan Sudders was shot in the head, and his wife received a bullet in the arm. C. R. Lester was wounded in the leg, as was Curley Brayton, Negro.

CENTRALIZATION OF CHARITABLE
WORK DESIRABLE

City Officials Favoring
Such Organization
For Relief Work

A movement to establish a local system of relief for the city's poor was discussed with Mayor Frank D. Palmer and Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber this morning. The plan includes the perfecting of an organization, which will include representatives from all of the church organizations as well as civic bodies which sponsor charitable programs, under one head and with a central point for the collection and distribution of articles to the needy.

Mayor Palmer and Chief Van Bibber are strongly in favor of such a plan and agreed that there was a need for such an organization in Dixon the year around. Such a system would materially aid in the care of the city's poor under one head, instead of several bodies assisting in some cases and others not being reported, going without necessary aid.

The plan as presented to the city officers would provide for the centralization of the city's charitable bodies, with those who have been interested and experienced in the city's welfare work in charge. It was also urged that suitable location be secured where discarded articles could be assembled for distribution to those deserving. It is the plan to submit the proposition to the church organizations and civic clubs engaged in charitable work, for their consideration.

PURCHASE OF LIQUOR FROM BOOTLEGGER IS HELD TO BE LEGAL BY SUPREME COURT

Government Loses Its Appeal Of Case Involving Buyer

Washington, May 26—(UP)—Buying beverage liquor from a bootlegger is lawful, the Supreme Court ruled today in the Farrar case from Boston.

James E. Farrar purchased liquor for his own use and the government charged him with violation of the Volstead act.

The government sought to punish Farrar under the Volstead act permit section, which forbids purchase of liquor without a permit. The defense contended this provision applied only to those authorized to use liquor, such as druggists, manufacturers, etc.

The government submitted the case for a final ruling because some federal judges in charges to grand juries have cited purchase from bootleggers as unlawful.

Justice Sutherland announced the court's opinion, which was emphatic in stating that the Volstead act imposed no criminal liability on the purchaser of illegal liquor.

It was significant, Sutherland said, that Congress has not acted to penalize specifically liquor buyers.

Ruling Unanimous

The court's ruling was unanimous. In ten years of enforcement the government has held purchase was not included and has not heretofore attempted such a prosecution as this. The government admitted in its arguments that Congress considered such an extension of prohibition but refused to include it in the Eighteenth Amendment.

The court previously today declined to consider the somewhat similar case of Alfred E. Norris, New York broker, on technical grounds. Norris had purchased liquor from a Philadelphia bootlegger on mail order. It was shipped to him by express as ink or olive oil.

In the Norris case the court ruled that the defendant by pleading "nolo contendere" had in effect pleaded guilty and therefore he was foreclosed from protesting the validity of the indictment. Sutherland said the court would not rule on the merits of the validity of the indictment because of this.

Former Archbishop Of Canterbury Dead

London, May 26 (AP)—The Church of England was in mourning today for the Archbishop Lord Davidson, former Archbishop of Canterbury, who died at 1:05 A. M. yesterday after a lengthy illness. He was 82 years old.

Funeral services for the former Primate, who was the first of his long line to die in retirement and who held the first temporal title—that of Baron—to be extended to an English churchman, will be held Friday at Canterbury Cathedral.

Impressive ceremonies will be held, and the present Archbishop of Canterbury, the most Reverend Cosmo Gordon Lang, who succeeded Davidson in 1928, will officiate. King George will be represented.

His Majesty has sent message of condolence to Lady Davidson, who did not wish it to be made public. The Duke of Connaught and other members of the royal family, Prime Minister MacDonald and thousands of other British notables and friends conveyed their sympathy.

ALKY PEDDLER
TOO SLOW WITH HIS PISTOL: DEAD

Body Found Riddled
In Alley In West Side
Of Chicago Today

Chicago, May 26—(AP)—Peter Plescia last night went out the gang way—curtained automobile and blazing pistols.

The roar of the killers' car faded into the night, leaving behind, in a dark alley leading off West Grand Avenue, the form of Plescia with bullets in the brain, the jaw and shoulder.

Police said Plescia had quarreled with alcohol peddlers over territory. Papers in his pockets indicated, too, that the assassination may have resulted from attempts to "muscle in" on the macaroni manufacturing business.

Plescia was reputed by police to have been a blackmailer and member of the west side Aielo gang. He maintained an office for auto livery service with Peter J. Maruca, undertaker, and also was known as an olive oil merchant.

A 38 caliber revolver was found near the body, all six cartridges discharged. In his belt was a 32 caliber revolver, half drawn, indicating he was too slow with his own weapon to fight back. Plescia was 38 years old.

Two children told police they heard shots and saw two men leap into a curtained automobile which drove rapidly away.

Two policemen were wounded seriously in a shooting on the south side during a gun battle with a man who attempted to rob a soft drink parlor late last night. The gunman escaped by jumping through a window.

FARM EMPLOYE IN HAMILTON DROPS DEAD SUNDAY EVE

Nels C. Christensen, 60, Is Victim Of Heart Attack At His Work

Nels C. Christensen, aged 60, employed on the farm of Thomas C. Christensen, three miles north of Walnut in Hamilton township, dropped dead in the barnyard last night about 7 o'clock while competing the evening chores. He had taken two pails of milk to the kitchen and started back to the barn when he was stricken, about midway between the house and the barn. He fell forward on his left side, death being instantaneous.

Dr. A. P. Shearburn of Walnut was summoned and upon his arrival pronounced the man dead. Coroner F. M. Banker of Franklin Grove conducted an inquest over the remains at the Christensen farm home this morning, the jury returning a verdict that death was due to a heart attack.

Christensen went to the vicinity of Hamilton township early in March coming from Chicago and hired to Tom Christensen, where he had worked since. Two brothers, one residing near Storm Lake, Iowa, and another at LaPorte, Ind., are expected to arrive this evening to take charge of the remains. He was born in Aestrup, Denmark, April 22, 1870, and came to the United States at the age of 19. In his belongings, Coroner Banker this morning found a block of stock in the Racine, Wis., Building & Loan Association, and a check book, which indicated that the deceased had several hundred dollars on deposit in a Racine bank.

According to his employer, he had been in a morose state of mind for the past month, following receipt of a letter from a sister in Denmark, where he is said to own property. The body was being held at the Christensen farm home, while an effort was being made to locate his brothers, who were expected to arrive and take charge.

HEAVY PROGRAM
OF LEGISLATION
IS SENATE PLAN

London Treaty, Tariff,
Other Important Mq-
ters Discussed

Washington, May 26—(AP)—Senate Republican decided at a party conference today to attempt to dispose of the London naval treaty, the rivers and harbors bill, the tariff, and several other important pieces of legislation before adjournment.

Senator Watson, the majority leader, said no vote was taken but that the consensus was that the legislative program should be disposed of first in order to give a clear path for the treaty when it is reported from the Foreign Relations committee. He said "veterans" legislation probably would be considered as well as the House bill to regulate bus transportation.

The Republican leader said the program made it unlikely that Congress could adjourn before early in July.

Disposal of the legislative program first, he said, would give ample time for the Foreign Relations and Naval committees to complete treaty hearings and clear the way for floor debate.

The tariff conference report is expected to require about ten days in the Senate. He would not hazard a prediction as to how long the rivers and harbors bill would take.

All of the legislation decided to be taken up at this session has been acted upon by the House. Senate committees have made radical changes in the House bills on rivers and harbors, veterans' hospitalization and bus regulation, however, and it approved by the Senate would necessitate further House action.

The party conference went into the merits of the naval treaty to some extent, Watson said, but he did not make clear what objections were raised. Senator Johnson of California, an opponent of the treaty, and Senator Hale of Maine, chairman of the Naval committee, were present.

BY ARCH RODGERS

United Press Staff Correspondent

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 26—(UP)—Bobby Jones won his first contest of the 1930 British amateur today and remained as the nominal head of the American players in that classic championship Jones has won every world-renowned title except the British amateur.

Bobby's victim today was S. Roper. The score was 3 and 2.

This victory was in direct contrast to those scored earlier in the day by Harrison R. (Jimmy) Johnston of St. Paul, U. S. amateur champion, and George Voigt of New York.

Johnston defeated the British golf writer Bernard Darwin, 2 and 1. They halved all of the first nine holes except the eighth.

Voigt bested E. R. Tittle, one up, in 19 holes. A great second shot on the extra hole, directed Voigt to his close victory.

The less prominent U. S. players did not fare so well. Several of them lost out in their first competition. Among them were Paul Azbill, J. H. Forsman, H. B. Perrin, R. E. Hunt, J. Parker Toms and J. Caldwell.

Other Americans who won included Bobby Baugh and F. C. Stevens, Jr.

POLO RESIDENCE IS DAMAGED BY BLAZE

(Telegraph Special Service)

POLO, Ill., May 26—The W. T. Schell residence at 402 North Division street was considerably damaged this morning by fire, which is believed to have started in the attic from a defective fuse, as a fire was started in the furnace this morning and the blaze was discovered on the roof by neighbors at about 9:30 o'clock.

The fire spread rapidly and when it was seen the efforts of the Polo fire department might not be sufficient to control the flames the Dixon truck and several firemen from that city were summoned to aid.

Before the fire was extinguished it had burned the upper part of the big two-story frame residence, but most of the furniture was successfully removed from the first floor. Damage to the building is estimated at between $8,000 and $4,000 while loss of furniture will total about $1,000.

Stock Exchanges To Have Double Holiday
New York, May 26—(UP)—The Board of Governors of the New York Stock Exchange today approved the request of members that the exchange be closed next Saturday, following Memorial Day, making a three day suspension of trading over the week end.

Chicago, May 26—(UP)—A little used rule of the Chicago livestock exchange is responsible for the closing of that mart on Friday and Saturday of this week. According to a ruling established with the founding of the exchange, should a holiday fall upon Friday the exchange will regard the Saturday following as a holiday also. This provision in the rules seldom has been employed.

This year, Memorial Day falls upon a Friday and the old closing rule will be evoked. The other four holidays upon which the livestock exchange closes are Christmas, Thanksgiving, Labor Day and Independence Day.

The Chicago Stock Exchange announced it also will be closed on Friday and Saturday. The Board of Trade and the mercantile exchange will close Friday but will be open Saturday.

Parachute Jump Is Fatal To Young Wife
Bloomington, Ill., May 26—(AP)—Her first attempt at parachute jumping ended fatally for Mrs. Florence Palmer Davis, 19, of Normal, Ill., yesterday.
Nervous, she stepped out of the cabin plane piloted by Art Carnahan at 2,500 feet, she pulled the ring of her release cord too soon and the tangle of rope caught on the service handle of the tail of the plane. The handle ripped the chute across the middle.

More than 3,000 persons saw the accident from the airport here. Carnahan put his plane into a steep dive when he realized what had happened but his efforts to entangle the chute streaming above the falling woman in his wing struts were futile. The plane could not get down fast enough.
Mrs. Davis landed in an oat field, near the airport, and died at a hospital six hours later. Her husband and a two-year-old daughter survive.

FIGHT LOOMING IN HOUSE OVER REVENUE BILLS

Cook County Members Expected to Contest For Relief Acts
Springfield, May 26—(AP)—A perfunctory session of the Assembly today, was deemed likely in the legislative halls to be followed tomorrow by a fight over the revenue amendment proposal in the lower house.

With the Senate having already approved the amendment, to pass which the special session was called by Gov. L. Emmerson, Cook county members were expected to wage their contest for the adoption of the relief bills for Cook county taxing bodies in the house. The amendment which gives the legislation broader powers in enacting revenue laws comes to the lower branch Tuesday for its sanction.

Thirteen relief bills for the city of Chicago have already been introduced, five more designed to aid Cook county and the Chicago school board have been prepared for presentation today, and the Sanitary District plans to seek approval of a $12,000,000 bond issue without referendum.

It was predicted among legislative leaders that the Cook county relief bills would meet opposition on the point of increasing the tax rate and of issuing bonds without popular approval to wipe out deficits.

The winner of the national contest will be given a scholarship in Edison's laboratories and receive personal tutelage from the famous inventor.

Boy Fell To Death In The Royal Gorge
Canon City, Colo., May 26—(UP)—A 15-year-old high school boy's eagerness to take a snapshot of the world's highest suspension bridge which spans the scintillatingly famous Royal Gorge near here, cost him his life.

The youth, Roland Schmidt of Denver, lost his balance while peering over the edge of the mighty chasm with his camera yesterday and plunged 200 feet into a crevice. He was killed instantly.

Four men summoned from Canon City by Albert Pickney, 16, who saw his friend fall, risked their lives to rescue the body, when they were lowered over the edge of the gorge by ropes.

INDIAN MOSLEMS JOINED IN CIVIL REVOLT IN INDIA

Disturbances, Arrests In Separated Areas Hold Attention
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Disturbances and arrests of civil disobedience leaders in widely separated areas today compelled the attention of British and Indian authorities throughout India.

The killing of D. B. Murphy, Assistant Superintendent of Police in Peshawar, indicated renewal of disorders in that strife torn district.
Salt raids at Waddala were repeated today, with 200 arrests and fully that many injured in encounters with armed police who raked the raiders with six rounds of gunfire.

Indian Moslems at Calcutta passed a resolution for civil disobedience and protested the policy of the Nationalist Congress in ignoring Moslems.

Another woman leader today took charge of the volunteers at Untad, where Mrs. Sarojini last week was arrested. She is Miss Maniben Patel, daughter of Villabhai Patel.

Patrol Rangoon
Rangoon, Burma, May 26—(AP)—Civil and military police patrolled Rangoon's streets today in consequence of clashes during the fight and this morning between striking dock laborers and imported laborers and police. Nearly 100 people were injured.

The trouble arose when the imported coolies started work and were attacked by Burmese coolies who had been replaced since the strike terminated. Both parties brought up reinforcements and when the police intervened they were met with a shower of stones and brickbats.

RITTER PLEADS GUILTY TODAY: IS SENTENCED

Former Birgerite Gets Life For His Part In Adams Death
Benton, Ill., May 26—(UP)—Connie Ritter, former Charlie Birger gangster, pleaded guilty today to a murder charge in connection with the slaying of Mayor Joe Adams of West City, Ill., in December 1926 and was sentenced by Judge C. H. Miller to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary at Joliet, Ill.

Ritter thus evaded jury trial in a case that would have brought out again all the amazing activities of the notorious gang.

Mayor Adams was shot to death by Birger gangsters, after he was lured to his front door step by a note to which had been signed the name of Carl Shelton, rival of the Birgers. Ritter was accused of writing the note and of paying off Birger's gunmen at $50 for each shot they pumped into the body of Adams, whom they suspected of favoring the Sheltons.

Ritter took the sentence calmly, sitting in the Franklin county courtroom, which was filled with spectators. Many of them were friends of the defendant, who was born and brought up in this neighborhood.

Judge Miller said that the state had agreed to imposition of the life sentence. Ritter will be taken to the penitentiary this afternoon.

He was captured at Gullport, Miss., last fall after being a fugitive since the Birger gang atrocities.

POPPY DAY TO BE OBSERVED BY DIXON POST A. L.

Auxiliary Will Sell American Legion Poppies Tomorrow

Edward A. Hayes, Commander of the Illinois Department of the American Legion, has issued the following statement concerning Poppy Day, which will be observed by the Legion and its Auxiliary here tomorrow:

They can not speak or write for themselves—we must speak and act for them. Ever since its organization the American Legion has considered the care of the disabled its major purpose. As a result of its activities approximately 250,000 men are drawing compensation; 50,000 tuberculars, 54,000 mental wrecks, 140,000 medical. There are approximately 30,000 in the hospitals; over 3600 of them being in Illinois. Our problem grows. Mental cases have increased 90 percent in the last four years. We have it on good authority that we will not reach our maximum number of cases until 1938, therefore, we must have our forward-looking program.

To help out in this service program the Department of Illinois maintains a Service Department, which is manned by men familiar with the various laws and regulations relating to the disabled. This office serves all ex-service men, regardless of whether or not they belong to The American Legion. It acts as a clearing house for all of the 691 Posts in the State. It contacts with the Veterans Bureau. Much time is given to putting through adjusted compensation claims. Repeated medical examinations are necessary and this office assists in securing them. Responsibility toward the mentally defective is assumed so that they will be secured in their rights.

One million two hundred thousand Poppies were sold by the Department of Illinois through its Posts and Auxiliary units last year, at five cents each. Any amounts over five cents per poppy received by the Posts were kept by them for relief and service work in their own communities. In 1929 approximately $38,000 was realized by Posts for this work.

All expenditures are carefully made in accordance with a definite budget, prepared by the Department Executive Committee and approved by the State Convention. All officers handling funds are bonded. Our books are audited by certified public accountants. They are open to inspection at all times to any person or any organization desiring to investigate, and we welcome such investigation.

Poppy sales are handled by approximately all American Legion Auxiliary units, composed of the mothers, wives and sisters of members of the American Legion. They are a splendid group of women and each year demonstrate their selflessness and patriotism by serving our disabled comrades and we owe them a deep debt of gratitude for this devotion.

Many men still fight and endure the hell of war. We can not do too much for them. Nine hundred ninety ex-service men in Illinois were committed to institutions last year. A great many are still suffering from tuberculosis and other diseases. No care or expense should be too great for them.

We must and will not forget. You have helped us out in our cause and we thank you. Because of our experience we feel that we are doing a better job each year. We feel that our responsibility is your responsibility. It is the duty of us all to give and to serve those who still suffer from the war. We promise to administer all funds carefully that we may continue worthy of your trust.

MANY IN HONOR LEGION

PARIS —(UP)—Membership in the historic Legion of Honor has jumped from 32,000 in 1913 to 141,386 last year, figures recently made public reveal. There were 138,000 in 1928 and only 49,000 in 1913, the year before the Great War, which in itself swelled the list.

Film Star To Be Here in Person

BUCK OWENS, PRODUCT OF HOLLYWOOD, COMING

He Grew Up Out West, Learned the Tricks of the Range and Then Made His Way up in Filmdom

There are film stars and then there are other stars but of all—to gain popularity—none are quite like Buck Owens—with the smile of a ranger and the strength of a mountaineer. Buck is coming to this city on Tuesday, May 27. He will be accompanied by his leading lady Miss Anita Austin, a daring equestrienne—a range rider and roper—who has shown to a vast multitude of moving picture fans what she can do "on location." With all of his Hollywood company as his assistants, Buck Owens puts on two "personal" appearances in the big top of the Robbins Bros. circus. He performs just the same as he does on location out in sunny California, when producing a western film. In the tent are camera men and he engages in making a picture for world wide distribution this fall before the circus audience. He gathers the circus atmosphere for his new picture and all can get in on the deal by simply attending the circus.

Buck has for years been putting on some of the big hits in the western drama so far as the film business is concerned and he is always glad to have the people come and see him. He will be found in his special rest room between acts and in the morning. So if you have a desire to see the world's greatest film artist of the western drama go and get acquainted. He appreciates a fan and all will find him a really true American who is simply gone wild over winning in his profession as range horseman, roper and bull dogger. He does all three with a skill that excels all competitors or rivals.

Pilot Saved Mail And Self In Fall

Cleveland, May 24.—(UP)—Pilot Samuel Samson, flying the Cleveland-to-New York night air mail, made a successful parachute jump near here early today when the engine of his plane went dead in a driving rain at an altitude of 8,000 feet.

The crippled plane crashed and was destroyed by flames. Five hundred and forty-five pounds of valuable air mail was saved.

Samson stayed with his plane until 500 feet above ground and missed death when his parachute grazed a high tension wire. Before leaping, Samson turned his plane upside down to let the mail bags fall out.

NEWS of the CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Soul and Body" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 25.

The Golden Text was, "My flesh and my heart faileth; but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever" (Psalms 73:26).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it. For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give exchange for his soul?" (Matt. 16:25, 26).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation" (p. 210).

World LEADERSHIP In 5 Years

FIVE years ago, Silent Automatic was an unknown newcomer among oil burners, facing the competition of several strongly established companies. Today "Silent" stands first among the 47 leading oil burner manufacturers—an achievement almost without parallel, and one which clearly indicates the outstanding merit of the Silent Automatic.

Undoubtedly, most Silent Automatic owners purchased their burners primarily to get rid of furnace worries—shoveling coal, carrying ashes, etc. But they soon discover many more advantages—uniform heat, greater cleanliness, a livable basement with space for a playroom or den.

"Silent" heating is no more expensive (and frequently costs less) than coal. The cost of installation is low, and you may purchase on an extremely favorable payment plan.

You can have a Silent Automatic installed in your home in a few hours. Come in or telephone; it takes but a few minutes to show you the "Silent" and tell you more about it.

.....Modernize Bedroom For Sunshine and Fresh Air.....

CROSS VENTILATION NECESSARY IN CHAMBER

DECORATIVE TREATMENT IS NEW

Approximately one-third of one's life is spent in the bedroom and consequently this room should be arranged attractively with comfort in mind.

It should be a room to which one can go at any time of the year with assurance that its temperature will be right, its lighting facilities will be good, its interior decorative scheme will be harmonious and its furniture comfortable.

The importance of proper sleeping quarters cannot be denied. Even though a greater part of the time the occupant of the room is not conscious of its arrangement, still each part of the room should be designed to afford rest of mind and body.

Cross Ventilation

Cross ventilation—the locating of the windows of the room so that air circulation is assured—is one of the important factors of the design of the bedroom. Often when the house is being modernized another window in a blank wall may be installed, so doubling the comfort of the individual. Cross ventilation is especially appreciated during the hot summer months when every breeze, no matter how tiny, is desirable.

Cross ventilation means windows in at least two of the walls. It means windows that may readily be opened to let in a flood of fresh air. Whether these windows be of the casement type, which permit up to 100 per cent ventilation, or of the more common double hung sliding type, is a matter to be determined by the architectural design of the home. Each type has their merits and each is in good taste.

The amount of sunshine that the room receives depends on the location and number of windows. There is a growing tendency to increase the number of windows in an opening. Instead of one window, two or three are now installed. Even in the bedroom this grouping of windows is permitted as the flood of natural lighting which follows is always desirable.

Interior Decorating

The method of decorating the room will depend largely on the taste of the individual who occupies the room. Each person has their own peculiar ideas on the subject and since the chamber is the most intimate room of the house it should be decorated to meet the fancies of its owner.

If the room is a small one the wall paper or wall tinting should be light. This increases the apparent size of the room. Gayly flowered wall paper always appropriate although many new homes are being designed with the walls painted with a coat of flat paint, tinted in some pastel shade.

Lighting Fixtures

The lighting of the room is always important and the fixtures should not only be selected with good taste but should be located to give the utmost in service. Since the room is usually used to make the toilet, the bracketed wall lights should be located so that they properly illuminate the face of the individual. One on each side of a dresser is convenient.

Place outlet sockets so that they will serve readily. Often the bed is equipped with a reading lamp. The outlet should be convenient. Sometimes heating pads and electrical toilet accessories are in use; outlets must be provided for them.

Portable reading lamps on small occasional tables are a part of many chambers. The electrical facilities must be such that a current is easily secured.

Furnishings

As for the furnishings themselves, good taste and the family pocketbook will determine what may be used. The room should not be crowded. It should be comfortably equipped with bed, dressing table, chiffonier and one or two easy chairs.

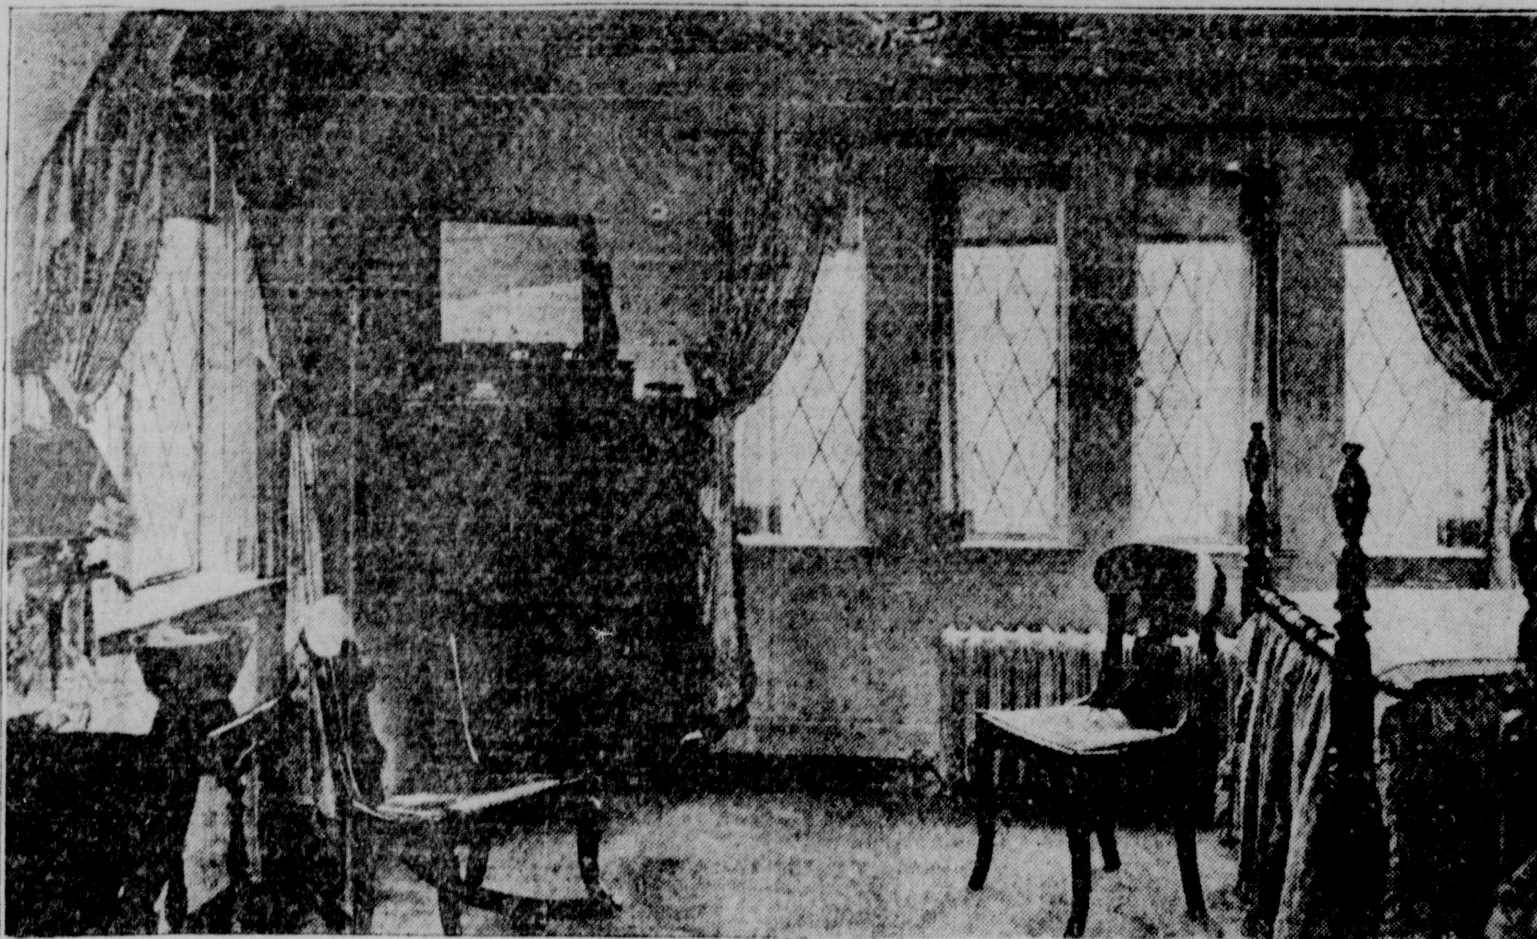

CHIMNEY MAY BE ORNAMENTAL ALSO

The chimney of your house is more than a conductor of smoke and heating gases from the furnace to the exterior of the building. It can be made a distinct architectural asset.

Years ago the average chimney was a straight brick column terminating a foot above the ridge pole. There was nothing ornate or decorative about it.

Today the chimney plays its part in expressing the individuality of the dwelling. If the house be of the English type the chimney terminates in a set of chimney pots. Instead of being entirely of brick field stone may be worked in to relieve the monotony and to add feeling and texture to the whole.

WHICH BEDROOM DO YOU PREFER?

Above is a modern bedroom, a bright, airy, chamber which is a pleasure to occupy. Contrast it with the old-time bedroom of by-gone days.

SUN PARLOR TAKES PLACE OF OLD-FASHIONED PORCH

A study of twenty-odd houses that were modernized during the past two years discloses that only one of the group added a front porch to the home when improvements were being made, while a respectable percentage enclosed the front porch, turning it into a sun parlor.

The growing use of sun parlors is based on practical considerations. The sun parlor is a bright, cheerful spot which readily takes the place of the open porch. This is especially true if the sun parlor is equipped with large openings of windows which can be thrown open during hot weather. Casement windows are desirable as they give 100 per cent ventilation.

The front porch is available for use only during the warm months of the year.

During the greater part of the time it stands idle. On the other hand the sun parlor may be used at all times. Even in the dead of winter when sub-zero weather abounds, the sun parlor may be satisfactorily heated and put to use. Is it especially desirable then as it enables the occupants of the house to get full benefit from the light of the sun.

The enclosed sun porch is usually looked upon as being of a "summery" character and is usually furnished with wicker furniture, grass rugs and gayly colored cushions. Sometimes it becomes the radio room of the home and here the family gathers to listen to distant stations or their favorite programs.

The nature of the sun parlor makes it a favorite gathering spot. It is one of the delightful rooms of the house.

STRANGER'S OPINION BASED ON CITY'S HOMES

Attractive Residences Mark Prosperity

That the home modernizing program is important to the city at large is evident when one remembers that the stranger's opinion of the city is largely based on the appearance of the residential districts of the city.

If these streets be lined with smartly appearing, attractively designed homes the impression is immediately favorable. The homes on the street designate that the city is progressive and that the inhabitants are interested in living under modern conditions.

On the other hand, if the homes are of the more commonplace, conventional type, with architectural lines that were in vogue several decades ago, the stranger at once comes to the conclusion that the city is an old one, that the citizens are unprogressive and slack.

The homes speak vividly of the community life. They mark at once the progressiveness and spirit of the city.

Those citizens who have a deep-seated loyalty to their community will perceive the importance of making the residential streets of the city up-to-date. The importance of modernization will become more apparent.

Modernization benefits the city as well as the owner of the home who employs its use to make his home more attractive and comfortable. Every home that is modernized is just one more evidence of the progressive uplifting spirit of the community. It is tacit proof that the home owners realize their needs and are striving to make their home life better.

HOT WATER HEATER ESSENTIAL TO HOME

Every home should be provided with some means of securing hot water at any hour of the day or night.

During the winter months hot water is usually available for a tank may be connected to the heating plant, but with the approach of summer the heater is discontinued and other methods of providing water are necessary. An automatic hot water heater is the solution for summer hot water.

Your plumber or public service shop can advise the proper kind of a heater to purchase. A number of standard makes are offered at attractive prices.

INDEPENDENTS IN VICTORY SUNDAY OVER POLO TEAM

Petty Got Best of Bowman
In Pitcher's Battle:
Score, 5 To 1

The Dixon Independents defeated the U. S. Royals of Polo yesterday by a score of 5-1. Petty beat Bowman in a pitcher's duel, allowing only 3 hits to Bowman's 7. There were several errors on both sides, the Independents hit behind their errors. The Independents scored in the second inning when Skelton, first man up, survived on a wild throw. Prestegard was out but Weeks took hold of it fast one and sent it over third for two sacks. Skelton taking third Wilson worked Bowman for a 3 and 2 count and then singled over short driving in both Skelton and Weeks. Wilson was out trying to stretch the hit into a double.

Polo scored one in the fifth when with one out McGrath was hit by a pitched ball. Clark singled. Polo's first hit of the game, putting McGrath on second base. Bowman then hit a sharp grounder to Wilson, who fielded it perfectly but threw wildly to second trying for a double play. McGrath scored on the play. Clark went to third and Bowman to second. Petty then struck out Cottrell and McCall to end the inning.

In the eighth Rink led off with a single but was forced out at second by Bill Hargraves. Rusk then hit a long liner to Erdmier in left field and he missed the ball. Bill Hargraves going to third and Rusk to second. Skelton was out. Prestegard then slammed a liner over second driving in both runs. Prestegard was out trying to steal second.

In the ninth Monte Weeks drove one into deep left field and the left fielder Erdmier again dropped it. Monte taking second. Wilson drove him in with a double to complete the scoring.

This game was the third straight for the Independents. Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the widely advertised night game the Independents will try to get their fourth. On Decoration Day, May 30, the Rockford Public Service will come to Dixon and on Saturday and Sunday, May 31 and June 1st, the All-Collegians of Chicago will meet the Independents here.

Baseball Gossip

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The current rookie crop in the major leagues has been unusually good, producing a number of young sluggers, but it has not been particularly rich in good pitchers. In fact it was something of an event yesterday when two of the younger generation of hurlers turned in good games on one afternoon.

Leroy Mahaffey of the Athletics, who has been tried out in the majors before but did not make the grade, was the one winner of the two. Making his first start for the world's champion he turned back the New York Yankees in a neat fashion, to win 10 to 3. Mahaffey, who came up this year from the Portland Pacific Coast League club, perhaps recognized a kindred soul in Dusty Cooke of the Yankees, for he allowed Cooke two hits, including a home run, which aided his average considerably.

Leon Chagnon of Pittsburgh pitched well in the second game of the Pirates double header, but he could not cope with the experience of his rival, Red Lucas, and the Cincinnati Reds broke their losing streak with a 4 to 3 victory. Lucas himself scored the winning run in the ninth inning. The Pirates gave Cincinnati its tenth straight defeat in the ten inning opener by a 6 to 5 score.

The rest of the days' pitching triumphs went to veterans. Adolfo Luque, one of the ancients of the National League, held the New York Giants to four hits in ten innings as Brooklyn won, 4 to 3, for its 19th victory out of 25 games in a winning streak that started when the Robins and Giants clashed in their last series. The Robins, however, found one rookie useful. Gordon Slade, who celebrated his debut as a big league regular Saturday by hitting a home run his first time at bat, fielded brilliantly to help Luque out in the pinches.

tional League's strikout artists in the remaining game yesterday, turned into a slugger match in which neither Bill Hallahan of St. Louis nor Charley Root of Chicago lasted the full game. Hallahan maintained his margin by fanning four men to Root's three during the few innings pitched. St. Louis held the Yankees by rallying for four runs in the seventh inning and a 6 to 2 victory.

The fourth National League game, between Philadelphia and Boston was rained out. Fred Marberry and Ted Lyons held the hurling spotlight in the American League. Marberry gave the Boston Red Sox only three hits for a 5 to 0 shutout as Washington won its fifth straight game from Boston and its ninth victory in ten contests.

Lyons pitched his sixth consecutive winning game for the Chicago White Sox, holding the Cleveland Indians to four hits while Chicago pounded out 16 to win, 9 to 1. He also achieved a record unequalled so far with his eighth victory in nine games.

Detroit and St. Louis provided the leading exception to the rule that the pitchers had the upper hand for the day by driving out 28 hits between them as the Tigers won the game, 9 to 8. Detroit used two pitchers and St. Louis four.

THE CALL OF THE OUTDOORS

WOMEN APPROACH TO CONSERVATION

"Most women are not hunters and fishermen; just a few are privileged to enjoy those sports and yet women have always been conservationists," declared Mrs. Frank M. Warren, Chairman, Committee on Water and Waterways of the General Federated Women's Clubs, before the general assembly of the recent National Convention of the Izaak Walton League of America, held in Chicago.

"The interest of the women began in early times when they wished to save the trees, particularly around their homes, or to plant flowers around pioneer homes. With the coming of their citizenship, women have a new realization of responsibility. The increasing use of the automobile and, hence, the increase in knowledge of the country, together with the development of such organizations as the Federated Women's Clubs and the Boy and Girl Scouts have opened up new fields of service for the women, so that the work of women in conservation has followed weigh 204 when he returns, trimming off to 196 the day of the bout.

Endicott, N. Y.—There was no workout scheduled for Max Schmeling today, but camp followers were still talking about his double knockdown of Jack De Mave in Sunday's session. Schmeling twice felled De Mave with solid rights to the jaw.

New York—The United States Davis Cup Team, composed of four regulars and two alternates, will sail for England aboard the S. S. Berengaria June 3. The squad includes George Lott of Chicago, John Van Ryn of East Orange, N. J., Wilmer Allison of North Worth, Tex., John Doeg of Santa Monica, Calif., Berkeley Bell of Austin, Tex., and Gregory Mangin of Montclair, N. J.

Berlin—The Olympic Congress, attended by the representatives of 50 nations, went into its second day's session today. The congress, which will continue through Friday, opened at the Hall of Berlin University Sunday with an address of welcome from the Minister of Interior Joseph Wirth on behalf of the German government.

London—The United States, represented by Walter Kinsella, today launched an attack on the world's real tennis championship at Prince's Park, Knights Bridge.

Kinsella was paired against Pierre Etchebaster, masterful French professional and holder of the title, in 13 six-game sets. Four sets were to be played today, four more Wednesday and another four on Saturday. If, after these 12 sets, neither player has a winning lead the thirteenth set will be played the same day.

Etchebaster won the title from G. F. Covey of England in 1928. The last American victory in world's championship play was in 1914 when Jay Gould defeated Covey who had gained his first title in 1912.

Chicago—Western Conference universities must sever athletic relations with the United States Military Academy, according to a ruling adopted by a conference faculty committee meeting Saturday.

The new edict forbids athletic competition against schools which do not observe the three-year eligibility rule. Illinois will be allowed to play a very different line from the work of men, who have originally approached it largely from the sportsman's angle.

"There is no question but that the women of the country are becoming more and more conservation-minded. Among the unorganized women this is evidence to me largely because of the fact that the popular women's magazines are frequently including articles and editorials on conservation.

"I think that the women of America are perhaps more interested in retaining the beauty of our lakes and streams and rivers than in any one other thing, and waterway development which will partially despoil the beauty is something which we are working hard to prevent.

"Women are greatly interested in the preservation of our wild flowers and also in the reforestation of our country. In almost every state some program of great scope is underway, and American women are playing an important part in bringing these conservation measures to a successful conclusion."

MICHIGAN WINS BIG TEN TRACK MEET SATURDAY

Illinois Second; Simpson And Sentman Are Outstanding Stars

BY BERT DEMBY
United Press Staff Correspondent
Chicago, May 26—(UP)—Regardless of what happens, it seems certain that Lee Sentman, the black-haired Illinois hurdler and George Simpson, the flashy Ohio State sprinter, are destined to be the best remembered of the Big Ten track and field athletes of 1930.

If any proof of this was needed it came last Saturday when the thirtieth annual Western Conference games were held at Evanston. Both Simpson and Sentman stood out in this event like a Bobby Jones in a state amateur golf tournament and so completely dominated the competition that the words on almost all of the 9,000 tongues at the end of the meet were:

"How can they do it?"
Simpson, running without starting blocks, dispatched all of Eddie Tolian's backers when he beat the Great Michigan Negro in both the 220 and 100 yard dashes, running the 220 in 21 seconds flat. Try to find a half dozen men who can run that fast.

Sentman, lithe and a master at judging hurdles won both the 220 and 120 yard hurdles, in easy fashion and then to become high point man for the meet turned in his fourth place in the broad jump for a total of 12 points, two more than Simpson. Simpson was disappointed. Recently his mark of 9.4 seconds was turned down as a 100 yard dash world's record by the international rules body because he had used starting blocks. Saturday he discarded the blocks and ran from tor holds in an effort to set new records, but failed.

However, he hopes for a weather break a week from next Saturday which will allow him to set new records. He will be competing in the national intercollegiate races here and the competition he will have—which includes Bracey, Leland, Toland and probably Borah, Wykoff and Dyer—certainly will force him to his best efforts.

Michigan won the thirtieth annual conference games with a total of 51 points and Illinois was second with 44½. Only two records were broken and the new marks do not compare favorably with world's records.

Dixon Kiwanis Club

New Doubles Team

The daily practices of Wilmer Allison, American Davis Cup tennis player at the Huntington Valley Country Club courts near Philadelphia, are under the watchful eye of Mrs. Wilmer Allison, who, until recently, was Miss Anne Caswell. The tennis star's bride is the daughter of a prominent Texas sportsman.

Illini Have Chance To Tie For Pennant

Chicago, May 26—(AP)—The Big Ten baseball championship race, until last Saturday almost strictly a Wisconsin affair, today was a battle between the Badgers and Illinois.

Needling only one victory to win the championship, Wisconsin must defeat Illinois in its final contest, or share the title with the Illini. Other games Saturday will be: Chicago at Ohio State and Northwestern at Minnesota. Indiana will play at Northwestern Wednesday and Northwestern at Minnesota Friday.

Healo, Healo, Healo! Good for the feet. Sold everywhere by leading druggists.

Gagnon-Von Porat Fight Heads List

New York, May 26—(AP)—Jack Gagnon, Boston heavyweight, whose stock took an upward bound when he stopped Tufty Griffith, meets another front-rank contender, Otto Von Porat, Chicago Norwegian, in the line bout of the current week's boxing schedule.

Gagnon, who was outpointed by Griffiths in a return bout, will enter the ring of the Chicago Stadium on Wednesday night a short-ender in the betting, for Von Porat ranks several notches higher than the Boston fighter in the heavyweight listing. A victory for Von Porat probably by a knockout is expected, but Gagnon can hit with tremendous force with his right hand. Larry Johnson, Chicago Negro light heavyweight star, meets Paul Cavalier of Paterson, N. J., in the ten round semi-final.

Madison Square Garden's card on Wednesday will feature a ten round featherweight struggle between Fidel LaBarba, retired undefeated flyweight champion, and Bushy Graham, Utica, N. Y., veteran.

Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, meets Spug Myers of Pocatello, Idaho, in a ten round non-title bout at Indianapolis Thursday.

High School Stars In Chicago Tourney

Chicago, May 26—(AP)—High school track and field stars will invade Chicago, perhaps for the last time, for the University of Chicago's national championship meet, Friday and Saturday.

More than 40 schools have sent in entries and approximately 1,000 aspirants for national titles are expected to compete. Whether the tournament will be held next year has not been decided by the University committee appointed to investigate the advisability of continuing the event despite the ban of the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations.

Inside! Spit is a horrid word, but it is worse on the end of your cigar

The law says "No" to the spitter! But we all know there still exist hundreds of dirty places where the cigar-maker rolls the leaves with filthy fingers... and seals the ends with spit! In fact, more than half of all cigars made in this country are still made by hand, and therefore subject to the risk of spit!

Certified Cremo protects you against this abomination! Every tobacco leaf entering the clean, sunny Certified Cremo factories is scientifically treated by methods recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture. And its purity is safeguarded along every step of the way by amazing inventions that foil, wrap and tip the cigars without the possibility of spit!

Try a Certified Cremo—see how wonderfully good it is! Made of the choicest, tenderest leaves that the crop affords, we claim Certified Cremo's quality is tastier than that of any other cigar. Don't let its 5c price stand in your way. Your physician has in mind a cigar like Certified Cremo when he recommends a mild smoke in place of heavy brands.

Crush-proof... immaculate... foil-wrapped... Certified Cremo is the kind of cigar the late Vice-President Marshall undoubtedly was thinking of when he said: "What this country needs is a good 5c cigar!"

ERRORGRAMS

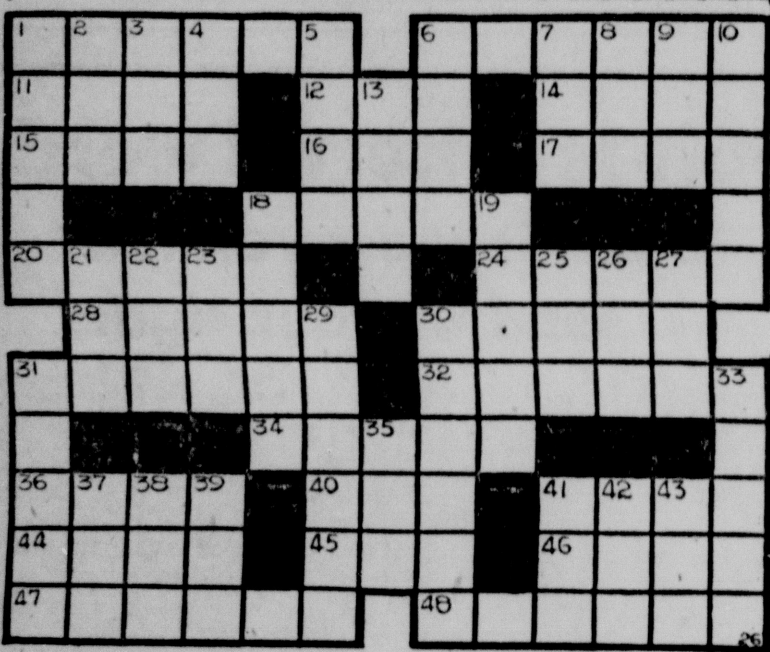

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it. Tomorrow we'll explain the mistake and tell you the word. Then you can see how near a hundred you bat.

Auto Racer Killed In Dirt Track Race

Kansas City, May 25.—(AP)—A contest for a first prize of $50 has cost the life of Lewis Wolfe, 21-year-old Kansas City racing car driver.

Wolfe died yesterday in an ambulance while enroute to Kansas City after he was injured in a collision on a dirt track at Smithville, Mo., a suburb. His neck was broken.

Ross Hemminger, 23, of Junction City, Kas., driver of the other car participating in the collision, suffered an injured hand. A third automobile driven by J. P. Baker, Kansas City, plunged into the wreckage but Baker escaped without injury.

The accident was viewed by 10,000 persons. Wolfe's car plunged through a fence, narrowly missing a number of spectators. The victim's racing experience was limited. He was injured last year while driving in a similar contest in Iowa.

THEY LIKE HIS CAR

Morden, England.—(UP)—Parrot disease brings no fear to the healthy centenarian parrot that has been a pet in the household of Mrs. Mary Martin for more than 50 years.

The Husband Hunter

© 1930 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

NATALIE CONVERSE, jealous of her husband, quarrels over her husband, ALAN, who seeks sympathy from his secretary, PHILIPPA WEST, who secretly schemes to arouse ALAN's suspicions, and she leaves ALAN, wounded, and she leaves ALAN, who is left to her intentions. Torn by his knowledge of his love for Natalie, and his reluctance to leave her, he leaves her, and she goes to her home, and she makes an appeal to his pity and his love.

Now go on with the story CHAPTER XXXIII

AN OUTWARD peace fell over the Converse household, but it was like spring following winter. It held a hint of storm.

It was so much easier for Natalie and Alan to talk about their trouble, that they let it go, unspoken, to lie dormant and dangerous between them.

STOCK CARS IN MINORITY AT SPEED CLASSIC

Tommy Milton to Drive at Indianapolis Speedway Memorial Day

BY MARK H. KNIGHT (United Press Staff Correspondent). Indianapolis —(UP)—Forty speedsters of the automobile world will thunder over the bricks of Indianapolis Speedway on May 30, but of this group only one—the Chrysler—will bear the name of a high production manufacturer, in contrast to the solid entry list from pioneers of the stock car industry, in the 1911 race.

Auto racing has been growing apart from the passenger car industry since 1919, and with the single exception of 1923 when Durant swept five places, the familiar names have not returned.

When Harroun tore down the homestretch for an average speed of 74.59 miles an hour in a Marmon in 1911, he was followed by cars equally familiar to the ear of the motorist of that early day.

Foreign car names were much in evidence likewise until the war put a two-year halt to the annual classic.

Stutz and Marmon are two of the earlier names familiar to the motoring public both for their performances in races and on the highways, which have largely disappeared but not often in recent years the Stutz has re-entered the lists, and Marmon long since confined itself entirely to stock machines.

In 1915 the Duesenberg factory began to make itself known in the racing world, and since has placed among the first 10 to the tape on all but two years. In fact Duesenberg was the outstanding name on the speedway oval until 1924, when Harry Miller crashed through with four of the first 10 finishers, and Duesenberg placed two.

Since that year Miller cars, built in their entirety for speed, have been the great factor in the 500-mile event until 1929, when only two were entered, one of which placed second. These two makes of machines have won more than half the prize money since their advent on the course, and they have inaugurated a new age in racing in which the stock cars seem doomed to remain forever in the background.

To be sure, the name Duesenberg is known on the highways, but it is far removed from the ordinary purse. Only three makes of cars have won more than one race. Miller, Duesenberg and Peugeot, the last mentioned a foreign make, have won three events each. The Peugeot won in 1913, 1916 and 1919, and no foreign entry has led the field since. In 1920 three Peugeots were entered in 1921 two, and in 1922 one. None has made the effort since.

Supremacy of American racing cars coincides with the year when a monopoly on victories went to 8-cylinder machines. In 1920 seven of the first 10 cars were eights, although a four won the event. Since then all winners have been eights, only four fours have placed among the first 10 to the tape, and not a single six has finished. Since 1924 every finisher has been an eight. Only in the initial race in 1911 did a six win the event.

The scarcity of "repeaters" is even more pronounced among drivers than among cars, which gives some idea of the element of luck which prevails on the brick oval. Tommy Milton is the only driver who has won twice, and very few, even among the famous racers, have been in the big money more than two or three times.

AUSTRIANS STUDY ENGLISH

Vienna —(UP)—Two events in Vienna which occurred almost simultaneously have given a great stimulus to the study of the English language by the Austrians. In one of the city's largest theaters a troupe of British actors known as "The English Players" performed for more than a week to packed houses and popularized the works of several modern British dramatists whose works are so far little known on the continent. Just two players, Sid Erich Phillips, the British minister to Austria, opened a new library of English language books in a section of the Austrian National library.

Britain Plans for Ruler's Birthday

The British empire is preparing to celebrate the birthdays of King George and Queen Mary, shown here, which come singularly close together. Queen Mary will be 63 on May 26 and King George 65 on June 3. They were married July 6, 1893.

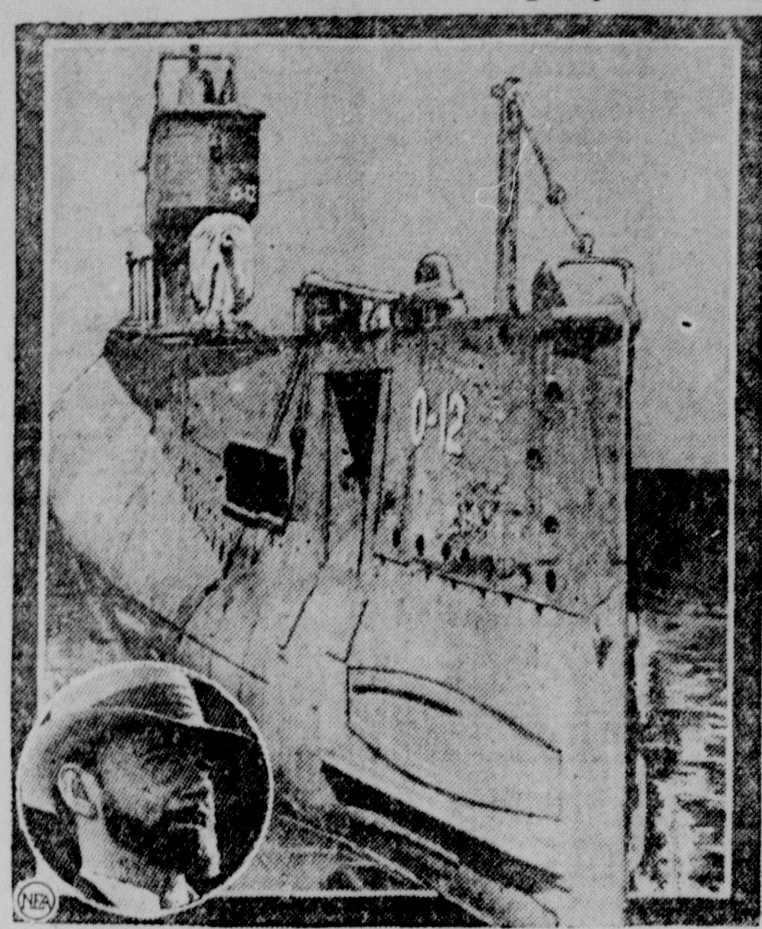

Dear Editor—The American papers published in Europe are tickled over the political sensation in the state of Illinois. The nomination of Mrs. Medill McCormick, as a candidate for the United States Senate, has startled the democratic world. It has also been a surprise to Americans sojourning in Europe. It seemed to me that ex-Governor Deneen made a splendid Senator. It occurred to me several years ago, that it was about time for Illinois to produce another president, to succeed Abraham Lincoln. It seemed to me that either ex-Governor Lowden, or Senator Deneen, would be a strong candidate for that exalted position. Both men served their state nobly, and deserve the high esteem of their fellow citizens.

Since Mrs. McCormick is the nominee for Senator, by a handsome majority, it becomes the duty for every citizen, who believes in equal rights for women, in prohibition, and in honest government, to cast their ballot for the Republican nominee. My first acquaintance with Senator McCormick was when as a member of the program committee of the National Progressive Convention in Chicago, he asked me to open that great convention with prayer. He said, Roosevelt wanted a German Lutheran preacher to make the invocation. I told him he had called the wrong man, that I had never served a German congregation. His answer was, "You were a Civil War veteran, and you are the man we want."

I delivered my prayer from manuscript, before an audience of 12,000 people. After the amen, the chairman, Senator Dixon of Montana, took my hand, and said, "I did not know that a Lutheran preacher could deliver such a good political speech." I do not think that he meant it as a compliment; at least I did not take it as such. Just then the editor of the Collier Magazine stepped up and requested my manuscript, and later the prayer appeared in his magazine. Later, Senator McCormick was very kind in trying to adjust some matters in the Pension Department in Washington, with reference to my son John, who came home a wreck from the Spanish-American war, and my son Paul, who was killed in France, in the World War.

A few years ago at a reception given in Berlin by our Ambassador Houghton, Senator and Mrs. McCormick stood in the receiving line. Later in the evening he introduced me to Mrs. McCormick, and I was much pleased with her friendly greeting. A few days later he invited me to a private room at the Embassy, for a pleasant visit and a mutual exchange of sentiments about the German Republic. There are 20 women

Sub Chosen for Polar Trip by Wilkins

This submarine will rip and tear its way through polar ice floes to the top of the world, if plans of Sir Hubert Wilkins materialize. The noted explorer, shown in inset, has chosen the United States submarine 0-12 now out of commission, for his projected undersea expedition into Arctic regions. If the Navy Department gives its approval, the craft will be recommissioned and specially equipped for the journey.

Arrest of India's "Salt Rebels"

"What's happening in India?" This unusual picture answers the question better than words. Here you see uniformed Calcutta police fully armed, wading waist-deep into the water to seize recalcitrant natives who are dipping up salt for manufacture in defiance of the British salt laws. Scores of native rebels have been arrested on this charge, resulting in growing civil unrest throughout India.

In the German-Reichstag, who are making their influence felt in the line of just government and moral reform. It is about time that the haven of noble womanhood be introduced into our United States Senate. My plan now is, to be on hand to cast my vote for Mrs. McCormick, this fall.

The noble womanhood of America deserves this recognition at our hands.

Most cordially and fraternally,

Thomas Franklin Dornblaser.

The exhibit of work accomplished by the home economics classes was grouped in the sewing and foods class rooms at the high school and was a credit to the girls and their instructor, Miss Oral Turner, and one which the mothers fully enjoyed.
Place cards were fashioned in the shape of ships and the menu followed this lead in the nautical terms: Anchors Afloat, Creamed Seagulls, White Sand with Green Sea Shells, Lone Island, Driftwood Salad, White City Harbor, Calm Seas.

Ashton folks were grieved and shocked to learn of the sudden death of former superintendent of schools Wallace at his home in Preport on Friday. While serving the local schools Supt. Wallace made many warm friends who learned of his death with sorrow. The Wallace family left Ashton in the spring of 1928.

Recently while on a trip East, I spent a few hours at Harrodsburg, Kentucky, visiting with D. M. Hutton, editor of The Herald of that city.

It is said that Harrodsburg is the oldest town in Kentucky. The first cabin was built by James Harrod in 1774. Mr. Hutton spent some two hours taking me through what is no doubt the only park of its kind in America. In this park has been built a replica of old Fort Harrod, which was the main stronghold west of the Ohio during the Revolution. The old stockaded walls have been re-built according to authentic records, with blockhouses at each corner. Within are the cabins that housed the pioneers, the first school in Kentucky, and the recreated spring that supplied the water during the frequent Indian attacks. Blockhouses and cabins now contain priceless relics of pioneer life, some of which were used in the original fort.

Near here is the cabin in which the parents of Abraham Lincoln were married. Here also is located the first cemetery in Kentucky. Within sleep the brave pioneer men, women and little children whose sacrifice made possible this great state. I saw there the grave of the first white child born in Kentucky. This cemetery is unique in that eight distinctive periods of grave markings are shown there, from the rough surface stones on which settlers had no tools to carve a name or dates to the marble used a century ago. A trip to this park is wonderfully interesting and an educational lesson in early pioneer life.

11 Years Constipation Glycerin Mix Ended It

"For 11 years I tried to get rid of constipation," says Mrs. Chas. E. Blair. "Then at last the simple mixture, Ad-lerka, made me regular." The simple mixture of glycerin, buckthorn bark, saline, etc. (Adlerka) acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, relieving constipation in two hours! Brings out poisons you never thought were in your system. Let Adlerka give your stomach and bowels a REAL cleaning and see how good you feel! Thomas Sullivan, Druggist, in Franklin Grove by Geo. S. TRAMPLING ART FOR PROFITS

FOR all its virtues, modern industrialism has run amok under the spur of greed for profits. Witness, the ruin threatening the Art of Music.

300 musicians in Hollywood supply all the "music" offered in thousands of theatres. Can such a tiny reservoir of talent nurture artistic progress?

The true function of the machine is to increase the value of the product fed into it—not to debase it. Therefore mechanical music, as a substitute for Living Music, is a spurious form of progress—like a loom converting good wool into shoddy.

The grind organ, however operated, is a grind organ still. For music is an emotional art, a form of social intercourse, and hence dependent upon human contact.

Who profits by the elimination of genuine music from the theatre? Not the music-loving public! Not the musician!

If you agree that theatre patrons are entitled to real music—in addition to talking and sound motion pictures, for the price they pay—HELP SAVE THE ART FROM RUIN. Enroll with millions of others in the Music Defense League. When the public's voice is raised its will must be served!
